

Outcomes Associated with the Five Competencies

Social and emotional skills play a role in determining how well-equipped children will be to meet the demands of the classroom. They also determine whether students are able to engage fully in learning and benefit from instruction (Campbell & von Stauggenberg, 2008; Denham, Brown, & Domitrovich, 2010).