

Elementary School Principals Council – 9/15/16

“A complex art if ever there was one, building relationships is the foundational skill. Without trust, no amount of content knowledge, pedagogical know-how, or formative assessment is likely to move students to want to learn from you”
(Scherer, M. 2016).

Essential Questions:

- How do we effectively lead our schools in creating the best possible learning environment for all students?

Intended Outcomes: Participants will be able to

- Engage in collegial conversation and network with their peers.
- Manage the paperless cooperative enrichment process in place for this school year.
- Identify hopes and dreams for the upcoming school year.
- Learn about School Improvement Services initiatives and our continuing work for 2016 – 2017.
